ANGIE THOMPSON, pictured above, proudly displays her trophies she won recently in pageant competition. On Saturday, June 6, in Brookneal, Angie was crowned "Overall Jamboree Queen 3rd Place" and received a lovely four foot trophy. This overall award was presented Angie for having the third highest combined pageant and photogenic scores of all age divisions during the Jamboree pageant. Also, during the day she won second place in the "Tiny Miss Campbell County" and second place in the photogenic contest.

Recently Angie competed in the "Southeastern Virginia Tiny Miss" pageant and "Miss May Queen" held in Lynchburg at the Sheraton Inn for which she received third place in both events. During the event she also received fourth place in the photogenic contest and a special overall award named "Miss May Radiance". She was sponsored by Thompson's Sporting Goods in all of the above events. During the past year, Angie has competed in 19 pageants, 15 of which she has placed in the top four. She has received six special overall awards including three party gown awards. She is the nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Thompson and the granddaughter of Ms. Jean Nash and Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Thompson, all of Appomattox.

RODNEY THOMPSON, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Thompson, proudly displays two beautiful trophies he won recently in two photogenic contests. On June 6 in Brookneal, he won in his age division and was crowned "Photogenic Duke '81". In May during the Southeastern Virginia Pageant held in Lynchburg, he received second place in the photogenic portion of the event. Rod's grandparents are Ms. Jean Nash and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thompson, all of Appomattox.

Pamplin AARP hears Ray Noble

On June 16 the American Association of Retired Persons had their regular monthly meeting in Pamplin and it proved to be most interesting and beneficial to both the chapter and the Appomattox Rescue Squad.

The chapter was enlightened by the very capable Mr. Ray Noble on the use and costs of new devices and equipment in the business of rescue and Mr. Noble received the sum of $80 from the A.A.R.P. members as a donation to help in his good work.

Omar Mendoza's story

worthless. There were ration books to buy food, clothing, even a pair of shoes. It did not matter how much money anyone had, and if you were caught dealing with the black market, the firing squad would be there waiting for you. What was the use of trying under those conditions?" Continued Mendoza.

When Omar Mendoza finally came to this country, he was sponsored by the Catholic Relief Council and he knew that he would be met by a representative of that organization when his plane landed in Florida.

With just the "clothes on his back" (that was all he was allowed to carry with him), Omar stepped off the plane and went through customs.

Unable to speak English, Omar just looked and waited. "If Mohammed can't go to the mountain, let the mountain come to Mohammed," the young Cuban said to himself. Finally, he spotted two ladies who seemed also to be waiting expectantly. One wore the habit of the Catholic religion. He made his way to her and, much to his delight, found she was fluent in his language-she was the interpreter. They greeted each other with genuine interest and then the interpreter laughed heartily. She turned to Omar and told him what the other lady had said (his sponsor in the U.S.); she had commented that she had thought all along that all Cubans were black-what with Hollywood movies always portraying them as such.

"And I replied also smiling broadly: "Well, we have Hollywood movies where I come from too. In fact, I thought all Americans were either cowboys or Indians-which one are you?"

Next week we'll learn more of the experiences, some of them very trying, some filled with humor, as Omar became gradually accustomed to our way of life. Now it would be his way of life too!

JEAN BROWN AND HER SON, Herbie, display some of the items for sale at her new store, "Jean's Place," located six miles west of Appomattox on Route 460, along the westbound lane. The new business will be open on Saturdays from noon until 5 p.m., and on Sundays from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. For further information call Jean at 239-7360.
